Join Olive Gaea's upcoming session to explore the complexities of financed emissions, a critical aspect of Scope 3 emissions linked to financial services and investments. Financed emissions can significantly exceed the direct operational emissions of financial institutions, making their management crucial for climate action. Learn how your organization can address and reduce these emissions, contributing to global sustainability and meeting stakeholder expectations for climate responsibility. This webinar is part of Olive Gaea's series dedicated to empowering businesses with effective carbon management and decarbonization strategies.

Date – 26 June, 2024
